GREAT CROWD CHEERS TAFT

STARTS ON TOUR OF STATE

President at Seymour.

This has been indeed a great day for the republicans of Jackson county. To have William Howard Taft in the county for two speeches was our good fortune. Ten thousand people greeted Mr. Taft at -eymour and another great crowd greeted him at Brownstown. Five hundred people were here from Scott county and more than that were here from Bartholomew. Hundreds came in from Jennings and there was a big delegation from Brown. Taft day was a great success in Jackson county and the republicans are jubilant.

The special train arrived on time at 9:50, and remained until 10:05. The reception committee from here composed of Judge O. H. Modtgomery, Judge John M. Lewis, J. A. Cox, W. P. Masters, Frank S. Jones, B. F. Schneck, I. G. Saltmarsh and L. F. Greeman, met the train at North Vernon. The train stopped at the Chestnut street crossing and Mr. Taft was introduced by J. A. Cox, our candidate for Congress.

Though Mr. Taft's voice is in bad condition because of so much speak-them. ing he was heard by a large portion of the great crowd. In beginning his speach Mr. Taft said he desired to talk especially to the laboring men as he understood there were many wage earners here, among them a great many railroad men. He said he hoped to get the vote of laboring men because he was their friend and because the republican party is and always has been labor's friend. There is not an instance where the republican party has been unfair to the laboring man. It is the only party that has always been friendly to American labor and it is under republican polices that industries have been established and developed in this country furnishing employment to laboring men at good wages. You know where you are and what you can rely upon when the republican party is in control. He said he did not see how a wage earner could vote the democratic ticket in the face of results upon labor when the democrats were in power and their policies were tried out. Mr. Taft spoke of injunctions issued by him when he was a federal judge and showed conclusively to any fair minded man that he was not unfair to labor even then. He had occasion also to issue injunctions against corporations and did his duty fearlessly and honestly. On the bench as well as in other positions of trust he gave every man a square deal under the law. Mr. Taft emphasizes the fact that he is not only the consistent friend of the laboring man but he is a friend of the labor union because in union there is strength. Since the republican party has always been the friend of labor and since he is personally the friend of and in full sympathy with the laboring people Mr. Taft says he can consistently appeal to wage earners. The great crowd were pleased with and again.

Senator J. A. Hemenway followed Mr. Taft speaking for five minutes In the short time allotted to him be spoke to the farmers and business men as well as the laboring people and he gave them the best of reasons for continuing the republican party in power. All classes of people have prospered since the republicans came into power in 1897 and during the four years Ten Thousand People Greet Next reign of democracy previous to that all suffered alike. The experience of the past is sufficient to guide the people now. The wisdom and good judgement of the voters will prompt them to remember their own welfare on election day and vote for William Howard Taft. Senator Hemenway has a host of friends here and they were glad to hear him along with Mr.

Prior to the arrival of the Taft train Hon. Henry Rose Danner, of New York City was introduced by John H. Kamman, and he began his speech by saying that New York state is absolutely safe for Taft, that the people were afraid to trust Mr. Bryan and the democratic party. He had learned since he came west that the people out here have no more faith in the Bryan party than they had in New York and that being true there was no chance for Bryan to win.

After the spectal train left William Bosson, of Indianapolis, spoke briefly. He is a good speaker and though he spoke under difficulties he proclaimed the true doctrine and was heard with much interest.

There were two bands and two or three drum corps out. The Scottsburg delegation brought a band with inscription, "Oldest oxen in the world,

Harry Cribb, J. W. Cunningham, J. F. Keach and probably others met the

The Mitchell committee also boarded the train here. On this committee were Ed Massman, Wm. Weitnecht, W. E. Stipp, T. J. Taylor, Ed Hart, Ralph Hamer and F. R. Braman.

The meeting at Brownstown was also a great sucess. In fact the republicans throughout the county are enthusiastic over the success of Taft day. Next Tuesday afternoon they W. O. Bradley, of Kentucky.

AFTERNOON MEETING.

Hon. W. S. Kinworthy, of Iowa, who was to speak this forenoon, did not arrive until this afternoon at 2 o'clock. As soon as he came it was decided to have him speak at an open air meeting. A drum corps was put out and in thirty minutes several hundred people had assembled at the intersection of Second and Chestnut streets and were addressed by Mr. Kinworthy. He is an excellent speaker and the crowd was glad of the opportunity to hear him.

Mr. Taft's speech and the sentiments surrounding community was well rep- as possible. The train left here at class of new members will be initiated he so tersely stated were cheered again resented at the Taft meeting this 10:05, exactly on schedule time.

There's Money in Want Ads.

Some Want Ad. Results.

One evening one of our citizens lost his pocketbook containing about $55.00. He used a WANT AD. and within a few hours his pocketbook was returned to him with all its contents. The finder had been waiting for an advertisement to appear so that he might know whose pocketbook he had found.

In the same paper appeared a WANT AD. for another person who had lost between three and four dollars tied up in a handkerchief. Within a few hours after the advertisement appeared the money was returned to the owner in the original handkerchief.

One man had a cow for sale. He used a WANT AD. and had seventeen persons call to buy, the cow. He says that if you have anything to sell, the WANT AD. column of the REPUBLICAN will do the work.

A stranger came to town and wanted some solictors to help him in disposing of his goods. He tried a REP-PUBLICAN WANT AD. and said he had twenty-one replies. He said to us: "Your paper is a puller when it gets replies like that."

One man advertised a horse and carriage. He placed a WANT AD. expecting to run it for a week, but he had sold his outfit before the week was half out.

Some Want Ad. Results.

A Jennings county man lost his horse which had strayed away from home. He used a WANT AD. in the Weekly REPUBLICAN. In a few hours after the paper was out a telephone message came to this office from Freetown that the horse had been found in that neighborhood. The news was telephoned to the owner and he soon recovered his horse.

An Indianapolis lady lost a watch highly prized as a heirloom, from her automobile on the road between Jonesville and Seymour A WANT AD. in the Weekly REPUBLICAN returned the watch to the owner.

A Hayden man lost his pocketbook containing about ten dollars on the road between there and Seymour. A REPUB-LICAN WANT AD. was used and the pocketbook was brought to this office the next time the finder came to town.

One man advertised a fence which he wished to dispose of. He used a WANT AD. in the REPUBLICAN and he sold the fence the next morning before breakfast to a man who had read the advertisement the evening before.

A young lady lost her watch. She used a WANT AD. after trying for a day or two to locate the lost watch. The paper was scarcely out until a telephone message to this office told where the watch had been found.

We could go on citing instances without number, of lost articles found, houses rented, boaders and roomers secured, pieces of furniture or other articles sold money loaned, property bought or sold, odds and ends about the house turned into money, and innumerable other transactions made.

Of course a WANT AD, is not infallible. It will not always find the lost article, nor sell the piece of property you offer, but it will do it more than three-fourths of the time. If there's a customer for it, WANT ADS. will find him. Whether it is nearly new, or almost old, if it is still useful a WANT AD. will seldom fail to find a buyer for the article you wish to sell.

WHAT WANT ADS. COST.

WANT ADS. in the Daily REPUBLICAN cost one cent a word for the first insertion and one-half cent a word for each additional insertion. Six insertions in the Daily cost one-half cent a word each insertion. In the Weekly REPUBLICAN, one cent a word each insertion.

Dr. H. S. Sherwood The Chronic Specialist

Has been in Seymour since July 1st and is here to stay. Within this short time he has built up quite a large practice that is growing every day. The reason for this is that he has given each and every patient such satisfaction and so greatly benefited them that they give him a good reputation to others. His treatment for Piles; Fistula; Catarrh; Goitre; Female Complaints; Indigestion; Blood, Skin and Nervous Diseases is so far superior to treatment commonly obtained from other physicians that there is no comparison. The greatest reason for the successful way in which Dr. Sherwood handles chronic disease is that he knows all about the few diseases of which he makes a specialty and does not pretend to treat acute disease such as fever, etc. Stick to your family physician for acute troubles, but go to Dr. Sherwood for chronic ones. Consultation and examination FREE. Office: 101 North Chestnut Street, SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacetoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness. If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permatent core than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescribed It has a record of over forty years of cure It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice-more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials-though the bers. latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for

The United Mine Workers of America, the strongest organization numerically in the country, will not be bound by the political program of the American Federation of Labor, to support Bryan and the Democratic platform. In an official circular issued by T. L. Lewis, international president of the union, to the 300,000 members, he says the membership has intelligence enough to know how to vote without any advice from him and he will do nothing to influence their political preferences in any way.

"Public Beggar" Story Confirmed.

A campaign sensation was sprung at Wheeling, West Virginia, at a Republican rally when Honorable M. M. Garland of Pittsburg, former president of the Amalgamated Association, declared he was present when William Jennings Bryan stigmatized union labor leaders as "beggars" and labor unions as "nuis ances" in 1893, when the Ways and Means Committee of the National House of Representatives was considering the original Wilson tariff bill.

William R. Fairley, of Alabama, for the last ten years a member of the executive board of the United Mine Workers, has come out with the statement that it was the duty of laboring men to vote for Taft and Sherman. His stand is a practical repudiation of the leadership of Samuel Gompers, and additional evidence that the attempt of Gompers to "deliver" the labor vote to Bryan is a dismal failure.

Bryan is not to receive the solid labor vote of Minnesota. Contrary to the recratic labor leaders there appears to be a big split in the ranks of organized labor, and Taft will receive his due share of votes from the union men. Fifteen of the most prominent union men in Minneapolis have signed a circular letter declaring they take exception to the methods used by the Bryan element of the organizations, and many believe the labor men of the State will exercise their individual wills when voting and will cast their ballots for the Republican nominee.

There is every reason to believe that a movement has set in among the laboring classes of Iowa, the workers in the large industrial communities, towards Taft and the Republican ticket. Not only are the labor leaders who early in the campaign were advocating the election of Bryan less active in the support of the Democratic ticket, but many men less prominent but no less influential in the councils of the various labor organizations are openly counseling a more rigid scrutiny of party promises and records.

August A. Bablitz, secretary of the Central Labor Union of Lexington, Ky., urges his fellows to vote the Republican ticket in order to insure a continuation of prosperity.

BRYAN AGAINST

WOOL GROWERS.

Proposed Policies of Democracy Would Wreck Wool Growing Industry.

McKinley was elected through a which had voted for Cleveland. These states were Democratic because of the large mining population. They turned to McKinley on account of the severe punishment they had received by placing wool on the free list during the four years of the life of the Wilson Tariff act, which on the theory of free raw material swept away the duty upon wool, and this nearly destroyed the wool growing industry of the United States; and if it had not been saved by the Dingley act, which restored the McKinley duties upon wool, the industry by this time would have been wiped out in the United States. Bryan hopes to carry Wisconsin, which is a wool growing state, and the Rocky Mountain wool growing states which voted for Cleveland the last time. Apparently he expects the wool growers to overlook the fact that the Republican platform expresses and defines protection to American industries, particularly mentioning the farmer, who is a wool grower.

Bryan's election would be a menace to the wool grower in two ways. The Democratic party has defined its attitude toward wool as a raw material, although it is the finished product of the farmer. It takes a whole year to grow a fleece of wool, and in this climate, where sheep are fed in winter, they are fed crops, which represent labor and high-priced American labor, whereas the competitor of the American wool grower is the wool grower of the Southern Hemisphere (Australasia, the Argentine Republic and South Africa), who has the advantage of perennial pasture, and owing to this advantage, the cost of wool growing is only one-half of that of the American wool grower who, in the states enumerated, have to feed their sheep in the winter.

Another way to destroy the American wool grower would be by the destruction of the American Woolen Company, which consumes 40 per cent of American wool, on the ground that it is a trust. The American Woolen Company is composed of what were formerly some of the largest mills of the United States. They are thus what Bryan would denominate a "trust," and as his platform boldly declares that the products of trusts should be put on the free list, he would destroy the market for what American wool would be left. Then, again, if, in order to strike at the trust, he removes the duty upon "manufacturers of wool," he destroys the other 60 per cent of the independent mills outside of the American Woolen Company, or, in other words, those that are not in the trust. The Bryan policy spells ruin alike to wool growers and wool manufacturers .- Ameri-

AN OPEN LETTER TO

THE VOTERS OF INDIANA &

The Republican State Committee of Indiana sincerely deprecates personalities in political controversies. This rule was well established years ago, and it has been rigidly adhered to at personalities. Mr. Marshall took the position that this committee holds, that political contests should be digniis now in perfect sympathy with Mr. on this subject were made the basis of many complimentary comments in the Republican newspapers, all of them, we believe, speaking in approval of his position. Following its fixed custom and mindful of the appeal of Mr. Marshall favoring a campaign from which personalities should be rigorously excluded, the Republican State Committee has religiously refrained from any and all acts in the campaign that might be interpreted to be a violation of the implied understanding that the contest should be conducted along the lines laid down in Mr. Marshall's speech on the subject of personalities in politics.

In so far as the knowledge of this committee extends, the Republican newspapers of the state and the Republican speakers, without exception, have treated Mr. Marshall and all the with consideration and uniform kindness. No effort has been made, by indirection or otherwise, to cast an unpleasant reflection on the personal character of any man the Democrats of Indiana have named for office. In Mr. Marshall's own case, we believe, should not become a part of this partisan controversy.

Consequently it is with deep regret many instances, have not followed the rule he set down. We do not assert that these things have been done with Democratic state organization has set to work deliberately to stain the personal character of the Hon. James E. certain persons in this state manifestly have entered into a conspiracy to defame Mr. Watson by the circulation As we have said, this committee cannot make itself believe that the Democratic organization is an accomplice in his life is passed, we must go for the this conspiracy to injure the character | truest estimate of his personal qualifiof the Republican nominee, although justification for this belief might be urged in a number of instances where the Democratic press bureau of the state has been the vehicle for the dissemination of these libels.

"Who steals my purse steals trash; 'Twas mine; 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands.

But he who filches from me my good name

Takes that which enricheth him not And makes me poor indeed."

It is true that Mr. Watson for months now in this campaign has been a target for all the personal slanders that vindictive malice could invent. Nothing has been too scurrilous for these harpies to concoct and spread in order to discredit Mr. Watson and to build up against him a prejudice that might operate to his disadvantage in the election. These libels had their origin in the dens of vice in Indiana whose owners and patrons are perturbed and indignant because Mr. Watson has dared to proclaim his faith in the platform adopted by the Republican party of Indiana, one plank of which advocates a local option law with the county as the unit. Furthermore. Mr. Watson, when the legislature was called into extraordinary session, used his influence to cause to be written into the statutes the identical law proposed by his party. When Mr. Watson took his decided stand as a candidate for governor on the platform of principles laid down, by his party, he did so as a Republican. It was not a personal matter with him. He accepted the nomination of the Republican party for governor, and in so doing he obligated himself to support that which the Republican party believed to be right in this campaign. Had he done less, he would not be entitled to the respect and the con Indianapolis, Oct. 17, 1908.

fidence of the people of Indiana generally, to say nothing of the members of his own party who had signally honored him by choosing him to lead their ticket this year.

This being the case what Mr. Watson says and does on this subject is not on his own motion and by his own initiative; it is the expression of the congregate opinion of his party as well as reflection of his own view of the question. To make him the object of violent slander because of this is neitheir logical nor just. The platform declaration on the so-called temperance issue is the voice of the Republican party of Indiana, not simply the voice of James E. Watson, except in that Mr. Watson is one of some 400,-000 Republican voters in the state of man, a normal man. He belongs in that element of the American people which may be said to represent with exactness the best character of American citizenship. In every act of his life he has shown that he appreciates deeply the responsibilities which properly should rest on every normal citizen of the republic. He has shirked no share of the burdens which society lays upon its members. He has evaded no duty that the normal American owes to the state. When he came to manhood's estate he took unto himself a wife, and he is bringing up a family after the manner of the normal American citizen. He is a member of one of the leading churches of his home town. He has been associated more or less prominently with many of the leading secret societies of his state. He is a thirty-second degree Mason and one of the leaders of the Indiana Knights of Pythias, besides holding membership in numerous other orders. He has been a candidate for congress six times, and he has been elected each time. Both his public and his private life have been as an open book to the people of his congressional district for the last dozen years. When rumors attacking his personal character reached the people of his own home town, the ministers of the churches of that town, acting with the bankers, the judge of the circuit court, the superintendent of the public schools and other citizens, voluntarily issued a formal statement setting forth that Mr. Watson's home life is ideal; that in his association with his neighbors "his character never has been questioned for a moment," and that "his reputation for sobriety and morality is untarnished." Furthermore this positive recommendation by the ministers of Mr. Watson's town says with emphasis: "His manly stand for temperance is recognized as characteristic of the man and is in harmony with the private life he has led among us, and the utterances he made as a citizen, long before his present candidacy."

This approval of Mr. Watson's personal character comes from men divided in political belief, from ministers of the Protestant church and of the Catholic church. It is unspeakable to suggest that men of this kind may be procured to give public approval of one they know is not worthy. And to a man's own neighbors, among whom

Those who know Mr. Watson realize how utterly groundless are all these libels that are passed around from saloon to bawdy house and back again, to be scattered over the state of Indiana by the agents of a combination of interests representing an element in society that does not exist for society's good. Mr. Watson has been slandered. grossly slandered, at the instance of the confederation of liquor interests which seeks to defeat him for governor because he has dared to speak before the people in support of a law that will give the people of any county of Indiana the right to say for themselves whether the saloons shall be excluded from that particular county. For this reason, and for none other, Mr. Watson has been villified from one end of the state to the other. It seems to us that it is right and proper that the people of Indiana should understand that these vituperative assaults upon Mr. Watson's personal character have been made simply because of his attitude in upholding the Republican state convention's expression favoring the enactment of a rational law in restriction of the retail liquor traffic.

It is with regret that the Republican State Committee takes this method of calling the people's attention to the attacks upon Mr. Watson by anonymous cowards who are running over this state in the interests of the brewers' combine. But the committee feels that it is its duty so to inform the citizens of Indiana of the authorship of these slanderous inuendoes. The sum and substance of Mr. Watson's offense against the alliance of the liquor interests is that he has protested against the rule of Indiana politics by the

"We have pride in the fact that no state in the Union is more ably represented in the Senate of the United States than Indiana. We compliment the prople upon the return of Albert J. Beveridge to the United States Senate through the act of the Republican legislature of 1905, following the election of 1904; also upon the election of James A. Hemenway to fill out the term in the Senate of Charles W. Fairbanks, who resigned to become the Vice President of the United States. The long and faithful service of Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Hemenway in the congress has fully justified the high confidence which has been placed in them by the state. We approve, unqualifiedly, the course of each of these eminent citizens of Indiana. We earnestly advocate the continuation of them in the public service in which they are now engaged. And, inasmuch as the legislature which will choose a successor to Senator Hemenway will be e a ted this year, we commend him to the General Assembly of 1909 as the choice of the Republicans of Indiana, and we hereby heartily endorse him

When the people of Indiana go to the polls this fall and vote for members of the legislature, they will know that if they cast their ballots for the Republican candidates, they are voting for the return of James A. Hemenway to the United States Senate. He has been endorsed for re-election by the Republican party of Indiana, the endorsement being the congregate expression of individwal Republicans speaking through their representative conventions. Does any one know who will be the Senator if the Democrats succeed in carrying the Legislature? When a man votes the Democratic legislative ticket he is voting in the dark. The absurdity of the Democratic cry in Indiana for the election of Senators by popular vote must appeal to every thoughtful man. The Democratic party of Indiana has had plenty of opportunity to indicate a preference for United States Senator. But there never has been an official action that might serve as a light to guide the voters in their choice of members of the Legislature which will be called upon next January to elect a United States Senator from this state.

This is the time of the campaign when the people should be on the lookout for roorbacks-campaign stories without foundation in factthat are sent out at the eleventh hour to confuse the voters and to injure candidates. The roorback is a favorite device for unprincipled politicians.

SHALL THE BREWERS RULE?

The Indiana Brewery Combine, for the purpose of creating a prejudice against the county option law that a Republican legislature has placed on the statute books, and in hope of electing a Democratic legislature which will repeal the law, are spreading over the state glaring white posters, printed in red, declaring that the county option law will destroy business. With these posters are a lot of alleged pictures of business houses in Kansas City, Kansas, that the posters claim remain unoccupied because of the excluding of the salour from that state. Governor Hoch of Kansas was asked about the situation in that state with respect to the excluding of the saloon, and here is what he says

> Topeka, Kansas, October 16, 1908. I have your letter of the 13th inst., enclosing poster which you say is being displayed all over Indiana by the breweries in an effort to prove that the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kansas, has worked a great injury to the interests of the city. I have received many copies of this poster and find that it is being used all over the country. As a matter of fact, the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kansas, has proven of untold value to the city, not only morally and educationally, but financially as well. I am enclosing you a copy of a circular gotten out by the Commercial Club of Kansas City, Kansas, refuting the statements made by this circular issued by the brewers. This circular shows that the city is prospering as it has never prospered before. I am also sending you a copy of a speech made by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trickett, giving facts to show that the enforcement of the law has greatly benefited the city in every way. I call your especial attention to a statement made by Mr. C. L. Brokaw, cashier of the Commercial National Bank of Kansas City, Kansas. Mr. Brokaw's bank is the largest in the city, and he is one of the prominent bankers of the West, being formerly president of the Kansas Bankers' Association. Mr. Brokaw says that during the time since the saloons were closed they have had the largest increase of new business they have had in any equal period in the bank's history. He says that their bank holds the accounts of more than 50 per cent of the business houses of the city and that merchants say that business has been better than they have ever known it before. He says further that during his residence of nearly seventeen years conditions were never so good as they are today. Crime has been greatly decreased, business in every legitimate line is better than it ever was, and although at the beginning of the movement for law enforcement many of the business men were opposed to it because they thought it would hurt the city financially, there has been a wonderful change of sentiment there, and under no consideration would the citizens go back to the old conditions.

GOVERNOR.

In considering Governor Hoch's letter about the Kansas situation, the fact should be borne in mind that Kansas, in the state's constitution, prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage. The saloons which were maintained at Kansas City, Kansas, therefore, had no legal existence at any time; they were run in flagrant violation of the law and the constitution of the state of Kansas. They were permitted because similar forces to those that now are trying to establish the rule of the breweries in Indiana dominated the politics of Kansas City, Kansas. The breweries controlled the politics of this Kansas town, and the saloons were run in defiance of law and without regard to public sentiment. Finally an attorney general of the state who had courage and holiesty came on the scene and broke the power of the Kansas City ring and drove the illicit saloons from that place. This brave officer simply brought into play the law that the breweries had derided and spat upon, just as they have ignored and abused the law in every other state in the Union that sought to restrain the traffic in the interest of the public peace and welfare. The brewery combine at Kansas City had neither respect for the law nor for public opinion; the same is true of the brewery combine in the state of Indiana. The temperance question would not be in the politics of Indiana this day but for the greed and the rapaciousness of the Indiana brewers and their contempt for the wholesome sentiment that demands laws in regulation of the liquor trams that may abate its evils.

BRYAN IN OHIO

Candidate Spends a Day in Mr. Taft's Home State.

Marietta, O., Oct. 22. - Monster crowds and lusty cheering was Ohio's greeting to William J. Bryan. Just be fore the Democratic candidate passed over the line into West Virginia late last night he expressed himself as exceedingly well pleased with the receptions accorded him in the native state of his Republican opponent. Although the day was a hard one for him, Mr. Bryan exhibited no signs of fatigue. Inspired by the fact that he literally was carrying his warfare into the camp of his political enemy, he spoke with a vigorousness that even those who have been constantly with him throughout the campaign could not help but note. While still in bed yesterday morning, a newspaper was handed into his stateroom and Mrs. Bryan read to him a dispatch stating A BIT OF FRENZIED FINANCE that the New York Central railroad system was threatening its employes with a reduction in wages if he was Ice Stock Pools Supported by Bank elected, but promising an increase in work and wages if he was defeated This was his cue for the day, and he pitilessly fired broadside after broadside into the Republicans for their campaign tactics. He regarded the action of the railroad company as a "new menace" and declared "that the little ward heeler who goes around and All, the Candidate Found His Voice bribes a man with five dollars is a moral character beside the man who attempts to use his power to threaten Able to Make a Few Remarks at those who work for him and to buy them by a promise of increase or threaten by a promise of a decrease."

The route of travel was through many recognized Republican strongholds, and it was at such places that the candidate fired his heaviest batteries. Mr. Taft got his share of criticism, particularly in the matter of the campaign ing the trust and labor questions.

The witness produced a letter signed by Mr. Morse guaranteeing Mr. Austin from all loss. Mr. Austin says that he subsequently learned that his note was discounted at the National Bank of North America. Just before this information reached him, the witness testified, Miss Kate Wilson came to his office with a letter from Mr. Morse asking him to surrender the certificate for the 1,250 shares of ice stock. Mr. Austin indorsed the certificate in blank and surrendered it.
